The Online Gambling Market Growth

The global online gambling market size was valued at USD 63.53 billion in 2022 and is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 11.7% from 2023 to 2030.

The online gambling and betting market is expected to grow to $100 billion dollars by 2026. (GlobeNewswire). This market was worth over $50 billion in 2019. Thus, the online gambling market size from 2020 to 2026 is expected to reach $100 from billion a year.

In terms of devices, the desktop segment accounted for a significant revenue of around 48% in 2022. The desktop offers a large screen size compared to handheld devices and other devices that allow gamblers to enjoy the details and graphics of the game.

Moreover, the performance features offered by desktops, such as audio quality, picture quality, and customizable storage capacity of desktops, provide an improved gaming experience. These factors have led to the growth of the desktop-type segment.

Regional Insights

The report forecasts revenue growth at global, regional, and country levels and provides an analysis of the latest industry trends in each of the sub-segments from 2018 to 2030. For this study, Grand View Research has segmented the global online gambling market report based on type, device, and region:

Europe dominated the market in 2022 with a market share of over 41%. The development can be attributed to the legalization of gambling in various European countries, including Italy, Spain, France, and Germany. Other drivers for the market growth include the availability of high-speed broadband internet, the rising popularity of online casinos, and the rising use of smartphones. For instance, in 2022, sports betting accounted for the largest share of online gambling, per a European Gaming & Betting Association study. Furthermore, the Gambling Act 2005 imposed by the UKGC (U.K. Gambling Commission) has enabled companies to promote their gambling websites, which also assisted in expanding the market in the region.
